Tour of the Universe

Road trip

By C. Richard Stone, Minister

I have another trip down a long road ahead of me. I have an even longer one behind me. It is the same for West Sound Unity.

The road this church has traveled is almost as long as the one I've rolled on down during this lifetime. West Sound Unity (Unity Church of Bremerton at that time) was founded in 1943, one year after I was born. (Yes, I was born in 1942, although I don't feel nearly that old.)

Marion Brown founded this church and guided it through the growing years, until it was large enough for the congregation to build its own (completed in 1964). Marion served for about 26 years. I arrived in 1997, after a long string of ministers, who averaged a little over two years of service each. The longest stay was about six years. I have been here over eight years, and I am pleased about that and grateful.

I am leaving West Sound Unity Church after these eight years because I feel the call of Spirit to do so. We have been challenged financially most of the time I have served here. Last December, someone said to me, "Something has to change. We need to do something." This is my greatest disappointment – that I couldn't find the key to unlocking our financial prosperity. When I heard this comment, it triggered something in my soul. I knew, at that moment, that it was time for me to leave. It was time for the church to open its heart to someone else who would take it to the next step.

Please note that I mentioned "financial prosperity." I believe we have prospered in many other ways. I believe there has been a healing in this church during these eight years, and that the Mission statement:

West Sound Unity Church is a ministry using the teachings of Jesus Christ to inspire the experience and joyful manifestation of God's unconditional love for all in a safe, loving, and nurturing environment.

level of joy and love has increased greatly. I am intensely grateful for this. Now, it is time for this church to experience the abundance it so deserves. This will, of course, begin immediately, as the church will be relieved of paying a minister's salary. This isn't the long-term answer though. The truth is, you are the long term answer. It is your prayers, love, and support that will provide the answer.

Margie Hyatt will be the Church Coordinator when I leave. That will be addressed elsewhere in this newsletter. Just allow me to say that Margie will do wonderful work in this church, and all will be blessed by it – and not least will be Margie. Here is where you come in – where you become the answer to the question of prosperity for this church.

A church is not a minister or a Church Coordinator; a church is only a church if there are people making it so. People like you. May 1 will be my last Sunday – please don't make it yours. If you attend now, keeping on coming; if you haven't been here in a while, come on back! Margie and the Board will make sure there is something to feed you spiritually when you come. But most important, come for the people here that you love, and come for your soul. It is in the presence of the love of those who attend West Sound Unity Church that you are most fed by the manifested love of God, and you have the

Bon Voyage, Richard! Be there – Sunday, May 1

Richard's last Sunday and "We love you" celebration, honoring his eight years here at West Sound Unity, will be May 1. Join us in sending him on to Harrisburg and new adventures with love and joy from Bremerton.

Karla Moore is organizing a special celebration for the party, somewhere between a sentimental farewell and a full-out roast! To help with the festivities, we ask for your input and participation. Please contribute with any of the following suggestions or in whatever way your heart speaks to you.

Have a funny memory to share? Write it for an album to be assembled that day or share it during our "memories" time.

Got a picture of Richard to loan? We can scan it and include it in his album. Be sure to write a caption on the back (if you are giving the photo to the album) or include a caption in a note (if we are returning the photo to you – and put some identification on the picture, please).

Have a story about how Richard's messages affected you personally? Were you moved, comforted, or nudged into action by a talk? Write a note to include in the memory album.

Please bring any of the mementos suggested above to add to Richard's celebration. Bring your joy and good wishes for his continued journey in ministry. And, since it's the "First Sunday" potluck AND a party for Richard, please bring your favorite food to share and plenty of chips!

Blessings,
The Board of Trustees and Margie

opportunity to express that love. With you here, supporting your church and the people you love who attend here, this church will prepare itself for new and higher good. I don't know how, I don't know when, but I know it will. God expresses powerfully anytime we open the door and step out onto the road before us.

I know that my road is taking me to wonderful adventures, and to wonderful people to love the best I can. I know that West Sound Unity Church is on the road to wonderful adventures and to receiving wonderful people to love – and new leadership directed here by God. Don't miss it – be here to watch it all unfold.

Thank you, each and every one of you, for making my eight years here years of growth, joy and love.

Margie Hyatt

The journey continues

By Margie Hyatt, Church Coordinator

A friend used to attend Spokane Unity years back and witnessed this demonstration of true "glass-is-half-full" attitude. One Sunday while all were in church, they heard a great crashing commotion from outside. Now, this church is located on the steep slope of Spokane's South Hill. They ran outside to see what had occurred and found the minister's car had somehow rolled across the parking lot, over the steep bank, and lay totaled at the bottom of the embankment. As everyone stood at the precipice exclaiming and bemoaning the tragedy that befell him, the minister said, "Well! I can't wait to see what God has coming for me now!"

You've heard Richard and me speak about the flow of the last few months: his soul's calling to step in new directions, the doors in my life opening for great and unexpected change, my soul's urging to follow my heart into Unity ministry, and how these promptings are deeply connected in the life and flow of our church. Could either of us have predicted this journey, say, last summer? Nah. Our crystal balls are too often cloudy, but we can't wait to see how this all unfolds. And we have so enjoyed recognizing the synchronicity of events in recent months.

So much of the events that have transpired since December have felt cataclysmic at moments, like that car dropping off the cliff. It's good to just breathe (really, inhale right now!), pray (the best, it is said, is a simple yet profound, "Thank you, God"), and look with grateful expectancy toward the horizon of life to see what is coming.

Coming over the horizon, I expectantly see marvelous things happening in and for this church. We are blessed by the strength of spiritually committed people who attend and serve. You only have to look at the quality of our bookstore, our chaplain program, our hospitality, our newsletter, and our Youth Ministry program and teachers to know we are rich in people who care for this church. Even as we move through changes, we have continuity, enthusiasm, and commitment. There is no totaled car at the bottom of a cliff!

With all these blessings of Spirit already in place, I can't wait to see what ELSE God has coming for us now!

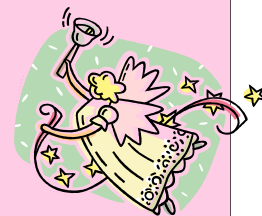

August rummage sale

Plan ahead for our annual rummage sale: August 19 and 20. Start stashing away your treasures for this big money-making event, and don't forget to remind your friends, too. We always need help the week before, setting up and sorting, so jot down the dates on your calendar.

Angel notes

- ◇ Carolyn Schneider for weekly cleaning of the sanctuary.
- ◇ Charlene Bryan and Carmel Pennington for redecorating the chapel.

I am abundance

I am the richness of the universe centered in myself, radiating forth to everyone. I am the security that only awareness of unity with God can give. I am that which cannot fade, that cannot disappear, that is ever new and abundant. I am the certainty of divine assurance, the confidence of perfect power, perfect repose.

-New Thought: A Practical American Spirituality, by C. Alan Anderson and Deborah G. Whitehouse

Sally McAllaster

From the board March madness and commitment

By Sally McAllaster, Trustee

I recently spent a week in North Carolina with my daughter, Carolyn, her husband, Coin, and their two sons, Casey and Joey. Carolyn had warned me ahead of time that they were in the middle of March Madness and I would be surrounded by basketball. I told her I would have my knitting, and watching basketball would not bother me at all. I also knew how much it meant to them. They are all University of North Carolina fans. Carolyn and Coin, now working at Duke University, are both graduates. Casey, 16, plans to enroll in UNC in the future.

If any of you have ever been a fan of a particular team, you know what this is all about. My daughter, Sally, and her husband, Chad, are Mariner crazy. She even has a score pad and scores every game, whether she is actually in the ball park or not.

If any of this rings a bell, you know how committed you can get if you went to a particular university. Maybe you still follow its team for years after you graduate. It never really leaves you... and you wear sweatshirts with the logo emblazoned on the front. Or maybe it's on a hat, or you may have a banner left over from your college years. Whatever it is that makes you follow this devotion to something that was a part of your past, it's a very large part of your life – still.

What does this have to do with West Sound Unity? I can't help but think how committed we are to our church. But do we really do more than is absolutely necessary to support the activities that happen each week? Do we feel the need to contribute enough during the Sunday morning offering? Do we find out what is really needed to pay the oil bill, the electric bill, staff salaries, cleaning staff, and all the other parts of running West Sound Unity Church? Do we think about it at all?

We should all pledge to help where we can. There are big changes going on in our church, and we will all be asked to take a greater role. Let this be an opportunity to get excited about West Sound Unity. We are a loving congregation. We have much to give to one another and to our church. Let's all invest in our future and become genuinely committed! How about it?

Four Things

by Henry Van Dyke

*Four things a man must learn to do
 If he would make his record true:
 To think without confusion clearly;
 To love his fellow-men sincerely;
 To act from honest motives purely;
 To trust in God and Heaven securely.*

Jim Bryan

In the book store

By Jim Bryan

As a bookstore owner, I am regularly in contact with people who have suffered the loss of a loved one – a spouse, a family member, a dear friend, workmate, or a pet. The loss of Teddy our "church dog," saddened the whole congregation. I thought I might review some reading that could be helpful in time of loss.

How to Survive the Loss of a Love, by Melba Colgrove, Ph.D., Harold H Bloomfield, and Peter McWilliams (a psychologist, a psychiatrist, and a poet). This is a lovely little book that has helped many people during their time of sorrow. It is often recommended by counselors.

When Bad Things Happen to Good People, by Rabbi Harold Kushner. A wise Jewish spiritual leader shares his agony, questions, and relationship with God after the premature death of his son.

On Death and Dying, by Elizabeth Kubler-Ross (and/or any of Dr. Kubler-Ross's fine books). The author has spent most of her life comforting and studying the terminally ill. Her absolute belief of the afterlife is inspiring.

A Grief Observed, by C.S. Lewis. This great Christian author (and author of the Chronicles of Narnia fantasy series), wrote this very brief booklet after the loss of his wife, Helen. It is interesting to note that even this devout Christian suffered doubts about God when in mourning.

Regarding the loss of Teddy, or any other four-legged companion: I found a column in a compilation of columns written by Dr. Dale Turner for the Seattle times, their recently retired religion columnist and past minister of Seattle's University Congregational Church. Following is a poem sent him by a parishioner who mourned the loss of "Pick," his canine companion of fourteen years.

*I've explained to St. Peter
I'd rather stay here
Outside the Pearly Gate.
I won't be a nuisance,
I won't even bark
I'll be very patient – and wait.
I'll be here and chew
A celestial bone,
No matter how long you may be.
I'd miss you so much--
If I went in alone
It wouldn't be heaven for me.*

Getting to know you

By Darrelyn Kamerman, Roving Reporter

Hello fellow congregants. We are continuing our newsletter feature, Getting to Know You. Though we know each other by a passing “hello” or a quick hug, there are many people we don’t really get to know. I intend for these interviews to provide us all with a little more about someone’s life. My hope is that we will find at least one thing interesting enough, so that the next time we see that person we will strike up a conversation. Any incorrect statements are my own and not the interviewee.

You see her every Sunday. You can often find her downstairs at hospitality or ushering with her husband, Bryan. She is a bundle of infectious energy. Maybe you have seen her with her son, Bob, or helping at Youth Ed. She’s quick with smiles and hugs. You know her name, but how well do you really know her? Please meet Karla Moore.

DK: Where did you grow up?

KM: I was born in Snoqualmie, home of the spectacular Snoqualmie Falls, and grew up in the Pacific Northwest.

DK: How many brothers and sisters do you have?

KM: I have one of each. I am the oldest and the best looking.

DK: Significant Other?

KM: Bryan, whom I adore.

DK: Kids?

KM: Bob, my son with Bryan; two grown children, Anthony and Angela; and two grandchildren, Allison and Jacob.

DK: How old were you when you started going to church?

KM: I’m not sure. I was nine or ten when I first peeked into the stain glassed windows here at Unity. My grandma lived on East 17th Street. When Bryan and I began our quest to find a place to worship and explore spiritual practices, we came here. The rest is history.

DK: What is your favorite part of church?

KM: When our service is focused on involving everyone, such as the Easter Daffodils ceremony. I love it!

DK: Tell us a little about your background.

KM: I love my life and all places of it. I’m at a place where it seems to make sense most of the time. I’m able to love others and myself in such a way I never thought possible. My background has provided me that opportunity. I give thanks for my Spirit for choosing such a great script.

DK: What is your career?

Puget Soundsters to sing May 20

The Puget Soundsters will sing at West Sound Unity Church 7:00 pm, Friday, May 20.

Selections will include songs from the movies, past and present. Come and have fun remembering your favorites. Some of West Sound Unity folks are in the chorus, including Al Williams, Sally McAllaster, Jamie McAllaster, and Jeanie Schenewerk.

A love offering will be taken to benefit the church.

KM: I have been a Registered Nurse for 25 years. I began my career as an open-heart nurse, part of the cardiac team at Tacoma General Hospital. I love my profession and I'm very dedicated to it.

DK: Okay, how about some frivolous stuff?

KM: I just celebrated my 50th on April 16. Every once in a while my birthday falls on Easter Day, and I love it. White is my favorite color, which I know is not a real color because I now know it is all the colors put together. I had a paradigm shift encounter with a Buddhist monk on Kauai after being escorted directly to him from a stunning peacock. I don't really like chocolate but I've witnessed its healing powers.

DK: What is your favorite food?

KM: Crab, fresh out of the pot.

DK: What is your favorite restaurant?

KM: The Boat Shed, because I know I can always wear flip-flops there.

DK: What do you like to do on an ideal Saturday afternoon?

KM: Visit local garden nurseries with Bryan and Bob.

DK: What would surprise people if you told them? Something that most people don't know about you.

KM: I'm shy.

DK: Do you have any pets?

KM: A Newfoundland.

DK: What has been your greatest adventure?

KM: River rafting down the Snake River in Hell's Canyon when I was 26. This came to my mind first because I felt like Indiana Jones – lucky to be alive – surrendering to the fact that I was not in control of anything except holding onto the rope. I witnessed three middle-aged doctors lose their lives on that river. I'll never forget the sight or the feeling of such helplessness.

DK: What is your favorite word?

KM: Believe.

DK: What is your favorite sound?

KM: The sound of Bob brushing his teeth without being asked. And harp music.

DK: Where was your favorite vacation?

KM: Kauai. Specifically the Na Pali coast.

DK: Have you held any odd/unique/interesting jobs?

KM: They've all been unique.

DK: What do you love most about the Pacific Northwest?

KM: The smell of salt air and the sound of the seagulls. And the sweet taste of rock crab. And the Brothers.

DK: Last but not least, what wisdom guides your life?

KM: Without vision, creating can be chaotic. When I'm connecting to God's vision, life is good.

DK: Thank you so much for the interview.

The Optimist Creed Promise Yourself-

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.

To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.

To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.

To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.

To think only of the best, to work only for the best, and to expect only the best.

To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.

To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.

To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.

To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Youth Ministry

By Kathy Rongholt

To my beloved Unity Family:

It has been my joyous pleasure to be the Youth Ministry Director at West Sound Unity Church for five years. It is now time for me to retire and create the space for the new energy entering our church.

Working with the young people and teachers here has been such a life-affirming experience for me. I am grateful beyond words at the support our congregation has given to our youth program. Your new Youth Ministry Director, Karla Moore, has a beautiful spirit and dedication to our youth. I affirm the vision of a thriving program designed to enrich each one who enters our youth ministry.

I hope you will join us in celebrating the teachers and students on Sunday, May 29, as we honor the teachers at Teacher Appreciation Day and Kid's Graduation Day. There will be a potluck following service. If weather permits, we will have a BBQ and picnic at the Youth Ed building. Fellowship and games for the kids ensures a great time for all!

As many of you know, the third annual West Sound Unity Retreat at Island Lake takes place the first weekend in June. We have planned a fantastic children's program for this event. Our kids will be spending time with Mark Stanton Welch, as well as swimming, hiking, playing and having a great time experiencing nature and Spirit.

My blessings of light and joy to each of you.

Emotions are streetlights on a dark night that illuminate the road.

Public Forum on the Role of Religion in the Public Square

Wyming Sun Returns!

*May 15, 10:00 am Guest speaker and 12:00 noon workshop –
The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse*

The Book of the Revelation has long been taught as an account of the end of the world and the second coming of Jesus, and yet he said, "Behold, I am with you always, even to the end of the world." He has never left! Here are some of the topics covered from an Eastern, Aramaic perspective:

- ◇ Why was this book included in the Holy Scriptures?
- ◇ How did the ancient people understand this book differently from other apocalyptic literature?
- ◇ What does this book reveal about the struggles people go through in their daily lives?
- ◇ What are the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse and how do they relate to the Four Living Creatures that hover before the throne of God?
- ◇ What are the seven angels and what are their attributes?
- ◇ "And behold, a pale horse and his name was Death." -- What does this mean to us?

These topics and more will be covered in this fascinating seminar taught by Wyming P. Sun, linguist, and pupil of Dr. Rocco Errico.

May 16, Monday, 7:00 pm – Healing Circle with Wyming Sun

Gather for a time of prayer and healing blessings with Wyming. A powerful experience of energy attunement with a group of fellow light workers and healers – our own selves! – just as Jesus taught.

Special Sunday Service with Mark Stanton Welch

June 5, 10:30 am, Island Lake Retreat Center Sanctuary

In previous years, our regular church service has continued here at church while retreat attendees have enjoyed the spirit-and joy-filled music of Mark Stanton Welch. This year, with the retreat location so close to our church home, we are holding our service for everyone, all our family together, in the magnificent setting of Island Lake Retreat Center.

Service will begin at 10:30 am, allowing a little extra time for anyone coming to the church unaware of our special arrangements for the day, to redirect and arrive in time for the service in the woods-surrounded chapel at Island Lake. Make an occasion of connecting with friends, perhaps in the church parking lot, and traveling together for convenience in driving and parking. Directions and maps will be available at the church. Come, join friends and family, connect with nature and Spirit, and experience Mark's music.

As his website describes: Mark's music reflects a personal path. It is filled with hope and encouragement; with reminders of strength and skill inherent in each human being; with a remembering of the tender and beautiful threads that tie us together, one and all; with celebration for the diversity and divinity of all life; and with a firm acknowledgement of our spiritual essence and union with the Creator.
